EVERYBODY'S TALKING ABOUT

Nicole's baby-body secret

Nicole Richie may be living life to the fullest since the Jan. 11 birth of baby daughter Harlow Winter, but you couldn't say the same about her post-baby body. Nicole, 26, showed off her surprisingly slim physique and new-mom glow at a Grammys afterparty and the opening of the Broad Contemporary Art Museum at LACM on Feb. 9. She looked so svelte it's hard to believe the Simple Life star gave birth two months ago. Now OK! can reveal her slim secret: Spanx! "She sometimes wears two pairs at a time," a pal of Nicole tells OK!. Cosmetic surgeon Dr. Kenneth M. Rose tells OK!. "Spanx gives new mothers the comforting feeling of having a tighter belly until they can fully resume their exercise routine."

Fiancé Joel Madden, 28, lends even more support, the friend says. "He'll help her find them in her closet if they're running late, but he thinks she looks great just the way she is." Says Joel: "She's a wonderful mother, and she looks really hot already. There's something so attractive about her now."

Was Nicole wearing her Spanx on the red carpet on Feb. 9?

Got an ugly situation? Ask Vanessa, the encyclopedia!

Vanessa knows all

It's official: Vanessa Williams, 44, is the oracle who knows and sees all. Well, at least for Private Practice's Audra McDonald. "I talk to Vanessa [about career and motherhood]," Audra, 37, told OK! at the NAACP Awards on Feb. 14. "I call her whenever I'm freaking out, and she has the answers. I call her 'Vanessa, the Encyclopedia.'" Kate Walsh, 40, doesn't get a bookish epithet, but Audra says, "[We talk about] everything."

Heidi wants to look like Jennifer

Jennifer Aniston, 39, had the most coveted hair of the '90s with her famous "Rachel cut," but for Heidi Montag, she also has the most desirable face and body. "When Heidi went in for her surgery last year, she was obsessed with looking like Jennifer Aniston," a source tells OK!. "She brought in magazine covers of her and asked the doctor to make her look like Jen. She wanted Aniston's wholesome, natural look." While Heidi's rep denies this, plastic surgeon Dr. Stuart Linder—who has not worked on either woman—says, "If her desire was to look more like Jennifer Aniston, I would say she had excellent work and they do have similarities."

But according to Heidi, 21, this is "completely wrong." At murmur in Atlantic City's Borgata Hotel on Feb. 16, she told OK!, "I wanted something that was me." Spencer Pratt, 23, says, "We are definitely team Aniston." Why? "Angelina's a little hussy," says Spencer, who labels her a homewrecker.

"Heidi looks more like Jennifer after her rhinoplasty," says Dr. Stuart Linder, author of The Beverly Hills Shape: The Truth about Plastic Surgery.

Baldwins for Geico?

The family that loves one another... sells auto insurance together? "There's talk right now of all of us doing a Geico commercial. Wouldn't that be funny?" Stephen Baldwin, 41, told OK! at the Faith & Value Awards Gala on Feb. 12. But a Geico rep tells OK!, "There's nothing in the works right now." Pity, the Baldwin brothers are so hairy they already resemble the Geico cavemen!
